During October Breast Cancer Awareness Month--

Manhattan, NY – Efforts to fight breast cancer will get a boost from noted cosmetic dermatologist Dr. Neil Sadick of Sadick Aesthetic Surgery & Dermatology during October “National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.” SASD will donate a portion of their proceeds from all services, treatments and procedures performed in October to a local breast cancer organization of the patient’s choice.

Dr. Sadick is dedicated to researching and providing the newest, state-of-the-art anti-aging procedures and treatments that ultimately help many women look and feel better. “Supporting women and helping them feel healthy is our goal, and we are actually very honored to be able to help some of these great organizations in their missions to battle breast cancer,” said Dr. Neil Sadick, who was named Best Cosmetic Dermatologist 2004 by New York Magazine. Dr. Neil Sadick has received dozens of medical awards recognizing his pioneering breakthroughs in skin care and anti-aging procedures.

Patients who make appointments at SASD’s offices on Park Avenue in New York City in the month of October will be able to designate a donation to either Share-Self Help for Women with Breast or Ovarian Cancer, The Breast Cancer Research Foundation, or The Libby Ross Foundation. These not-for-profit organizations raise funds that help support breast cancer research, education, awareness, community outreach and support for breast cancer patients and their families.
