

*The Libby Ross
Foundation*

- Kindergarteners tough crowd for visiting governor
- Medicaid extended for older foster kids
- Gunfire kills one, wounds another
- Behrman jury to start at 15
- Conesco does not get ratings lift

Top Indiana Living stories

- Let it out
- Wanda Perry
- Babies learn through safe exploration
- Breast surgery technique may yield easier recovery
- Technology helps doctors monitor patients from home

IndyStar.com ▶ Indiana Living

September 29, 2006

In the pink

Many retail items carry benefits for breast cancer research in their price tags

By T.J. Banes
tj.banes@indystar.com

Think pink.

⊕ zoom

Swarovski heart-shaped pin: $85, with a portion of the proceeds benefiting the Libby Ross Foundation.

The color is showing up on jars of salsa, tennis balls and Barbie dolls in advance of Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October.

The pink ribbon symbolizes hope -- hope for a cure and hope for advancing research, education and treatment for breast cancer. To help you support the cause, this photo gallery features a few popular items available online or in local stores.

Call Star reporter T.J. Banes at (317) 444-6815.

Copyright 2006 IndyStar.com. All rights reserved